Youth's Attitude of Mind

I have learned a lot from other participants' consideration, behavior, and individual beliefs. Especially they had a faith which is harmonized with their life, and it makes me reflect my life. So every hour in Poland I prayed, I tried to find my Lord. Through that time I could understand the meaning of "God remains with me". When I was in college, I just spent my time. But I become a different inspired by saying of Pope Francis - get up from the couch and have courage and freedom. It makes me have a courage to challenge.

I can have the faith that Jesus has mercy and eternal. Before I went to WYD, my faith was sometimes strong and sometimes weak. But during WYD, I sympathized with the faith of other participants and experienced the mercy of Jesus. After coming back to my life, I can realize that my religious life is not something I want to do. I can see my religious life from a point of view of an eternal dimension. Now, I have a fruit that can keep me feeling emotionally calm even though my life is hard.

Youth's Attitude of Mind

Time spent praying and praying together through WYD remains a precious memory to me. Through the liturgy of preparing and participating with a lot of youths and participants, I was able to meet God alive in the Polish Community. When I visited Auschwitz, I had the opposite feeling. When we arrived in Poland and had been warmly welcomed and experienced all of us as brothers. But here was a tremendous tragedy arose in our history when we forget that we are all brothers. The experience of WYD is remembered as a true happiness and graceful.

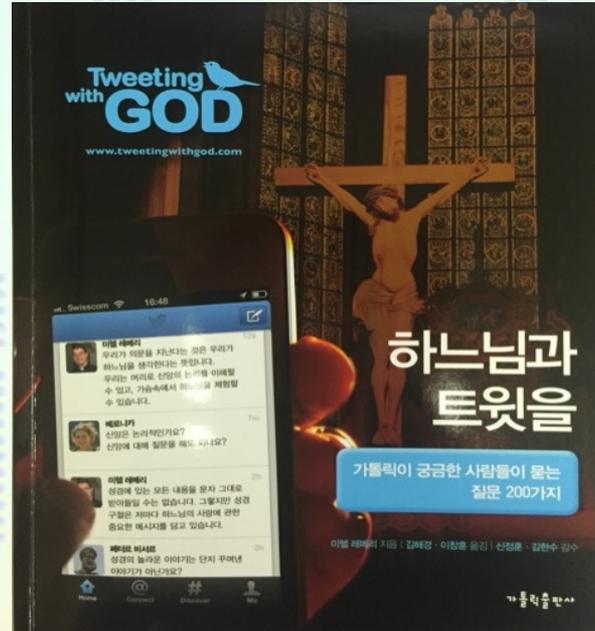

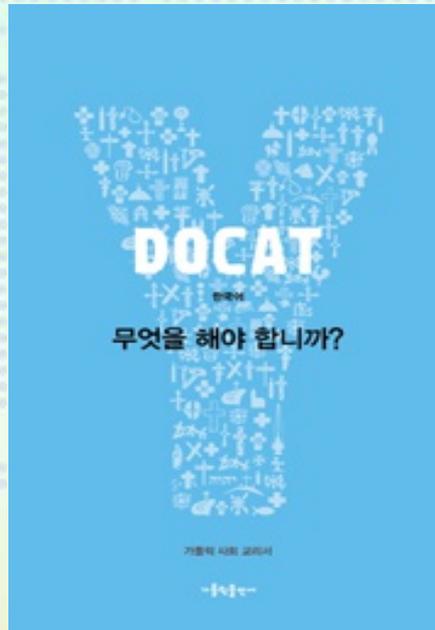

They were different people during the pilgrimage, who praise the Lord in their own language and sing their joy to invigorate the ways to the WYD with fun, vigor, and excitement. After the closing Mass of the WYD I had come across a question: "where should I go when this way is ended?" I could not find the answer soon enough and overwhelmed with sorrow and loneliness. . I just thought about all those big and small blessings that the Lord had given to me. Then my heart began to be filled with great joy. That joy still echoes in my mind.
