

What challenges face movements today?

Abstract

Prof. Andrea Riccardi

The focus is on the challenges of history. Going beyond self-referentiality, as we march along our shared path – our shared history. The fundamental challenge is to live the Gospel with our eyes open to the world. The challenge of a world in pieces. The challenge of war in a world where peace is disappearing. At the crossroads of the world, faced with new challenges, there is a need for wise Christians, capable of bearing witness alone and together. The challenge of the world of the “I”, which generates loneliness. The thirst for the Gospel: the challenge of our time. Renewal in hope: optimism and enthusiasm.
